Wilmington, Del. — Connecting Generations will be hosting training session for adults interested in becoming volunteer mentors this fall.

The Creative Mentoring program trains adults to work one-on-one with a child to help the child grow and develop his potential.

Mentors volunteer one hour each week in a school or community/faith-based organization near where they live or work. They mentor students who have been identified by a school counselor or staff member as needing additional attention.

Mentors must make an initial commitment for one school year.

For more information, visit www.creativementoring.org.

Training sessions:

Aug. 12 from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Community Services Building, 100 W. 10th St., Wilmington

Aug. 22 from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Brandywine Hundred Library, 1300 Foulk Rd., Wilmington

Sept. 9 from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Newark Free Library, 750 Library Ave., Newark

Sept. 23 from 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Community Services Building, 100 W. 10th St., Wilmington
